As a rheumatology specialist, Dr. Baydoun is skilled in treating musculoskeletal disease and systemic autoimmune conditions such as:

- Osteoarthritis
- Rheumatoid arthritis
- Chronic back pain
- Tendinitis
- Gout
- Lupus

DOING WHAT'S BEST.

Dr. Baydoun cares for patients with diseases affecting the joints, muscles, and bones that cause swelling, pain, stiffness, and possible deformity. To properly identify the condition, Dr. Baydoun collects a complete medical history and conducts a physical exam. Special laboratory tests may be needed. He will use the combined results to create an individualized treatment plan which may include medication, injections, physical therapy or additional referrals.
