RESUMING AN ACTIVE LIFESTYLE IS POSSIBLE

We all know that maintaining an active lifestyle is important to our overall health, but for too long now your life may have been disrupted by extreme pain, joint stiffness and decreased mobility. Normal activities such as climbing stairs, enjoying an evening stroll or playing golf have become a struggle. Even your sleep may have become disturbed because you can't find a comfortable position anymore. This is often the case when a person is suffering from arthritis of the knee or hip joint. Treatments that worked in the past—medications, bracing, weight management or physical therapy/exercise—no longer be effective.

Spec Info:

If you have been diagnosed with permanent joint damage and past treatments are no longer working, a Mako knee or hip procedure might be the best treatment option for you.
