HOME CARE

Skilled care in the comfort of home

HEALTH MANAGEMENT

What is home health care?

McLaren Homecare delivers clinically excellent, compassionate health care to patients where they are most comfortable—at home. Whether you are transitioning from the hospital or sub-acute rehab facility to home, recovering from an illness, surgery or injury, McLaren Homecare helps you get better, regain your independence, and remain safe in your own home.

Home health care is a range of health care services provided at home to treat an illness or injury. Examples of skilled home care services include wound care for pressure sores or a surgical wound, intravenous or nutrition therapy, monitoring of a chronic illness or unstable health status, and rehab therapy services. Home health care is available anywhere you call home, including at an assisted living facility (ALF) or adult foster care home (AFC).

Is home health care right for me?

Home health care may be right for you after an inpatient hospital stay for management of a chronic condition such as chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), congestive heart failure (CHF), diabetes, kidney disease, or respiratory disease, among others.

Home health care may also be appropriate following a surgery, such as a joint replacement.

Home health care may be indicated if you need:

- Help recovering from an illness, accident or injury
- Treatment or monitoring of wounds
- Administration or monitoring of medications
- Education relating to a medical condition
- Continued support following recent discharge from a hospital or nursing home
- Assistance managing multiple or complex medical conditions such as diabetes, congestive heart failure (CHF), chronic obstructive pulmonary disease (COPD), or cancer diagnosis
- Special equipment and supplies to treat a medical condition

OR

- A new health diagnosis
- A change in medication or worsening health condition at home
- Frequent falls or a decline in mobility at home
- A change in the home environment
- An inability to stay at home without assistance
