

PROVIDERS ACCEPTING NEWBORN PATIENTS

It is VERY IMPORTANT that we know which health care provider your baby will be following up with after being discharged from the hospital so your baby's important medical information, including test results, are sent to the appropriate provider. This is to assure the health and well-being of your baby.

CHOOSING A HEALTH CARE PROVIDER FOR YOUR BABY

Questions to consider asking:

Discuss the following with your partner to help you decide which items are very important in your decision making process.

- Do you accept my insurance?
- What hospital do you send your patients to when necessary?
- If I have concerns, can I reach you after hours? How?
- Who covers for you when you are not available?
- When calling the office with medical questions, will I be able to talk to a nurse or physician?
- How soon can I get my child in to see you when he/she is ill?

- What are your views on circumcision?
- What are your views on immunizations?
- Does your office provide immunizations?
- Are you a "Breastfeeding Friendly" Health Care Provider?
- Is it common practice for you to recommend that breastfed infants receive formula supplement in the first few days/weeks of life?
- Do you screen mothers for Postpartum Depression at well baby visits?
- For Pediatricians: Up to what age do you take care of children before they move into an adult practice?

If you choose a pediatrician who does not practice at McLaren Bay Region Hospital, and therefore, not on this list, be aware that your baby will be seen by the "on call" health care provider during your hospital stay at McLaren.
